I.

STATEMENT OF FACTS<sup>1</sup>

A. Arrest

On January 15, 2008, at approximately 4:45 a.m. Border Patrol Agents David A. Kaiser and D. Wenzal responded to a report of people walking north from the International Border Fence. They responded to an area known as "The 90's" which is located five miles west of the San Ysidro Port of Entry and 100 yards north of the border. There, with the assistance of air patrol, they found seven people in the brush. Each was questioned as to their nationality and status in the United States. It is alleged that each individual responded that they lacked the permission to legally enter or reside in the United States and that they were

 Mr. Lizarraga-Lopez does not stipulate to its accuracy and reserves the right to challenge it at future proceedings.

1 all Mexican citizens. All the subjects were detained and taken to the Imperial Beach Border Patrol Station.

2 B. Interrogation

3 At the station it was discovered that Mr. Lizarraga-Lopez had an immigration and criminal history.
4 It is alleged that he was read his Miranda rights and chose to invoke them.

5 C. Indictment

6 An indictment has yet to be handed down in this case. These motions follow.

7 II.

8 MOTION TO COMPEL DISCOVERY/PRESERVE EVIDENCE

9 Mr. Lizarraga-Lopez moves for the production of the following discovery. This request is not limited
10 to those items that the prosecutor knows of, but rather includes all discovery listed below that is in the 11 custody, control, care, or knowledge of any “closely related investigative [or other] agencies.” See 12 United States v. Bryan, 868 F.2d 1032 (9th Cir. 1989).

13 To date, defense counsel has received 76 pages of discovery. Mr. Lizarraga-Lopez respectfully 14 requests that the Government be ordered to produce discovery because Mr. Lizarraga-Lopez has reason to 15 believe that he has not received all the discoverable material in his case. For example, Mr. Lizarraga-Lopez
16 has received no documentation establishing that he was ever deported. Mr. Lizarraga-Lopez specifically 17 requests production of a copy of the taped proceedings and any and all documents memorializing the 18 deportation proceeding allegedly held and any other proceedings that the Government intends to rely upon 19 at trial. This request includes discovery of materials known to the Government attorney, as well as discovery
20 of materials which the Government attorney may become aware of through the exercise of due diligence.
21 See FED. R. CRIM. P. 16.

22 Mr. Lizarraga-Lopez additionally requests that the Court order the Government to allow him the 23 opportunity to review his A-file in its entirety. First, the A-file contains documentation concerning his 24 alleged deportation. Part of Mr. Lizarraga-Lopez defense may be that his underlying deportation was 25 invalid. The documents in the A-file would help illuminate the validity or futility of such a defense. For 26 example, A-file documents typically contain biographical information. Such information is essential to 27 determining whether Mr. Lizarraga-Lopez’s deportation was invalid.

28 Second, the Government will likely try to show at trial that a government officer searched the A-file

1 and did not find an application by Mr. Lizarraga-Lopez for permission to enter the United States.
2 Mr. Lizarraga-Lopez anticipates that the Government will attempt to admit a "Certificate of Non-Existence
3 of Record" against him, arguing that if Mr. Lizarraga-Lopez had ever applied for permission to enter the 4 United States, such an application would be found in the A-file and because such an application is not in the 5 A-file, Mr. Lizarraga-Lopez must not have applied for permission to enter the United States.

6 Although the certificate might be admissible, the question of the thoroughness of the search
7 conducted by the Government of the A-file is, and should be, open to cross-examination. United States v.
8 Sager, 227 F.3d 1138, 1145 (2000) (error not to allow jury to "grade the investigation."). Mr. Lizarraga-
9 Lopez should be able to review his A-file in order to see whether any application for lawful admission exists.
10 Moreover, Mr. Lizarraga-Lopez should also be able to verify whether other documents that would ordinarily 11 be in the A-file are "non-existent," or otherwise missing from his A-file. Mr. Lizarraga-Lopez may assert 12 a defense that his application for lawful entry was lost or otherwise misplaced by the Government. He must 13 be allowed the opportunity to review his A-file and the manner in which it is being maintained by the 14 Government in order to present this defense.

15 In addition, Mr. Lizarraga-Lopez moves for the production of the following discovery:

16 1. Mr. Lizarraga-Lopez's Statements. The Government must disclose to Mr. Lizarraga-Lopez
17 all copies of any written or recorded statements made by Mr. Lizarraga-Lopez; the substance of any 18 statements made by Mr. Lizarraga-Lopez which the Government intends to offer in evidence at trial; any 19 response by Mr. Lizarraga-Lopez to interrogation; the substance of any oral statements which the 20 Government intends to introduce at trial and any written summaries of Mr. Lizarraga-Lopez's oral
21 statements contained in the handwritten notes of the Government agent; any response to any Miranda
22 warnings which may have been given to Mr. Lizarraga-Lopez; as well as any other statements attributed to 23 Mr. Lizarraga-Lopez. FED. R. CRIM. P. 16(a)(1)(A). The Advisory Committee Notes and the 1991
24 amendments to Rule 16 make clear that the Government must reveal all Mr. Lizarraga-Lopez's statements, 25 whether written or oral, regardless of whether the Government intends to make any use of those statements.

26 2. Arrest Reports, Notes and Dispatch Tapes. Mr. Lizarraga-Lopez also specifically requests the 27 Government to turn over all arrest reports, notes, dispatch or any other tapes, and TECS records that relate 28 to the circumstances surrounding his arrest or any questioning. This request includes, but is not limited to, any rough notes, records, reports, transcripts or other documents in which statements of Mr. Lizarraga-Lopez or any other discoverable material is contained. Such material is discoverable under FED. R. CRIM. P. 16(a)(1)(A) and Brady v. Maryland, 373 U.S. 83 (1963). The Government must produce arrest reports, investigator's notes, memos from arresting officers, dispatch tapes, sworn statements, and prosecution reports pertaining to Mr. Lizarraga-Lopez. See FED. R. CRIM. P. 16(a)(1)(B) and (c), FED. R. CRIM. P. 26.2 and 12(i).

3. Brady Material. Mr. Lizarraga-Lopez requests all documents, statements, agents' reports, and tangible evidence favorable to Mr. Lizarraga-Lopez on the issue of guilt and/or which affects the credibility of the Government's witnesses and the Government's case. Under Brady, impeachment as well as exculpatory evidence falls within the definition of evidence favorable to the accused. United States v. Bagley, 473 U.S. 667 (1985); United States v. Agurs, 427 U.S. 97 (1976).

4. Any Information That May Result in a Lower Sentence Under The Guidelines. Notwithstanding the advisory nature of the sentencing guidelines, the Government must produce this information under Brady v. Maryland, 373 U.S. 83 (1963), because it is exculpatory and/or mitigating evidence relevant to a possible future determination with respect to sentencing.

5. Mr. Lizarraga-Lopez's Prior Record. Mr. Lizarraga-Lopez requests disclosure of his prior record. FED. R. CRIM. P. 16(a)(1)(B). Specifically, Mr. Lizarraga-Lopez requests records relating to an alleged conviction on June 25, 1991 for Robbery occurring in the County of Los Angeles.

6. Any Proposed 404(b) Evidence. Evidence of prior similar acts is discoverable under Fed. R. Crim. P. 16(a)(1)(c) and Fed. R. Evid. 404(b) and 609. In addition, under Fed. R. Evid. 404(b), "upon request of the accused, the prosecution . . . shall provide reasonable notice in advance of trial . . . of the general nature . . . of any evidence the government proposes to introduce under Fed. R. Evid. 404(b) at trial. Sufficient notice requires the government to "articulate precisely the evidential hypothesis by which a fact of consequence may be inferred from the other acts evidence." United States v. Mehrmanesh, 689 F.2d 822, 830 (9th Cir. 1982) (emphasis added; internal citations omitted); see also United States v. Brooke, 4 F.3d 1480, 1483 (9th Cir. 1993) (reaffirming Mehrmanesh and reversing convictions).

This request includes any "TECS" records as well as any other record(s) of prior border crossings (voluntary entries) that the Government intends to introduce at trial, whether in its case-in-chief, as

1 impeachment, or in its rebuttal case. Although there is nothing intrinsically improper about prior border
2 crossings (except, as here, where there are allegations of undocumented status), they are nonetheless subject
3 to 404(b), as they are “other acts” evidence that the government must produce before trial. United States
4 v. Vega, 188 F.3d 1150, 1154-1155 (9th Cir. 1999).

5 The defendant requests that such notice be given three weeks before trial to give the defense time
6 to adequately investigate and prepare for trial.

7 7. Evidence Seized. Mr. Lizarraga-Lopez requests production of evidence seized as a result of any 8 search, either warrantless or with a warrant. FED. R. CRIM. P. 16(a)(1)(c).

9 8. Request for Preservation of Evidence. Mr. Lizarraga-Lopez specifically requests the 10 preservation of all physical evidence that may be destroyed, lost, or otherwise put out of the possession,
11 custody, or care of the Government and which relates to the arrest or the events leading to the arrest in this 12 case. This request includes, but is not limited to, the results of any fingerprint analysis, Mr. Lizarraga-
13 Lopez’s personal effects, and any evidence seized from Mr. Lizarraga-Lopez.

14 9. Henthorn Material. Mr. Lizarraga-Lopez requests that the Assistant United States Attorney
15 (“AUSA”) assigned to this case oversee (not personally conduct) a review of all personnel files of each agent 16 involved in the present case for impeachment material. See Kyles v. Whitley, 514 U.S. 419 (1995) (holding 17 that “the individual prosecutor has a duty to learn of any favorable evidence known to the others acting on 18 the Government’s behalf in the case, including the police”); United States v. Henthorn, 931 F.2d 29 (9th Cir.
19 1991); United States v. Jennings, 960 F.2d 1488 (9th Cir. 1992) (AUSA may not be ordered to personally 20 conduct examination of records; appropriate Government agency may review files and notify AUSA of 21 contents as long as AUSA makes the determination regarding material to be disclosed); United States v.
22 Herring, 83 F.3d 1120 (9th Cir. 1996) (accord).

23 10. Tangible Objects. Mr. Lizarraga-Lopez requests the opportunity to inspect, copy, and test, as 24 necessary, all other documents and tangible objects, including photographs, books, papers, documents, 25 fingerprint analyses, or copies of portions thereof, which are material to the defense, intended for use in the 26 Government’s case-in-chief, or were obtained from or belong to Mr. Lizarraga-Lopez. FED. R. CRIM. P.
27 16(a)(1)(c). Specifically, Mr. Lizarraga-Lopez requests copies of the audio tapes of his alleged prior 28 deportations or removals.

1       11. Expert Witnesses. Mr. Lizarraga-Lopez requests the name, qualifications, and a written
2 summary of the testimony of any person that the Government intends to call as an expert witness during its 3 case in chief. FED. R. CRIM. P. 16(a)(1)(E). The defense requests the notice of expert testimony be provided
4 at a minimum of two weeks prior to trial so that the defense can properly prepare to address and respond to 5 this testimony, including obtaining its own expert and/or investigating the opinions, credentials of the 6 Government's expert and a hearing in advance of trial to determine the admissibility of qualifications of any 7 expert. See Kumho Tire Co., Ltd. v. Carmichael, 526 U.S. 137, 152 (1999) (trial judge is "gatekeeper" and 8 must determine, reliability and relevancy of expert testimony and such determinations may require "special 9 briefing or other proceedings").

10       12. Evidence of Bias or Motive to Lie. Mr. Lizarraga-Lopez requests any evidence that any 11 prospective Government witness is biased or prejudiced against Mr. Lizarraga-Lopez, or has a motive to 12 falsify or distort his or her testimony.

13       13. Impeachment Evidence. Mr. Lizarraga-Lopez requests any evidence that any prospective
14 Government witness has engaged in any criminal act whether or not resulting in a conviction and whether 15 any witness has made a statement favorable to Mr. Lizarraga-Lopez. See FED. R. EVID. 608, 609 and 613;
16 Brady v. Maryland.

17       14. Evidence of Criminal Investigation of Any Government Witness. Mr. Lizarraga-Lopez
18 requests any evidence that any prospective witness is under investigation by federal, state or local authorities 19 for any criminal conduct.

20       15. Evidence Affecting Perception, Recollection, Ability to Communicate, or Truth Telling.
21 Mr. Lizarraga-Lopez requests any evidence, including any medical or psychiatric report or evaluation, that 22 tends to show that any prospective witness' ability to perceive, remember, communicate, or tell the truth is 23 impaired, and any evidence that a witness has ever used narcotics or other controlled substances, or has ever 24 been an alcoholic.

25       16. Witness Addresses. Mr. Lizarraga-Lopez requests the name and last known address of each 26 prospective Government witness. Mr. Lizarraga-Lopez also requests the name and last known address of 27 every witness to the crime or crimes charged (or any of the overt acts committed in furtherance thereof) who 28 will not be called as a Government witness.

1        17. Name of Witnesses Favorable to Mr. Lizarraga-Lopez. Mr. Lizarraga-Lopez requests the 2 name of any witness who made an arguably favorable statement concerning Mr. Lizarraga-Lopez or who 3 could not identify him or who was unsure of his identity, or participation in the crime charged.

4        18. Statements Relevant to the Defense. Mr. Lizarraga-Lopez requests disclosure of any statement
5 relevant to any possible defense or contention that he might assert in his defense.

6        19. Jencks Act Material. Mr. Lizarraga-Lopez requests production in advance of trial of all
7 material, including dispatch tapes, which the Government must produce pursuant to the Jencks Act, 18
8 U.S.C. § 3500. Advance production will avoid the possibility of delay at trial to allow Mr. Lizarraga-Lopez
9 to investigate the Jencks material. A verbal acknowledgment that “rough” notes constitute an accurate
10 account of the witness’ interview is sufficient for the report or notes to qualify as a statement under section
11 3500(e)(1). Campbell v. United States, 373 U.S. 487, 490-92 (1963). In United States v. Boshell, 952 F.2d
12 1101 (9th Cir. 1991) the Ninth Circuit held that when an agent goes over interview notes with the subject
13 of the interview the notes are then subject to the Jencks Act.

14        20. Giglio Information & Agreements Between the Government and Witnesses. Pursuant to 15 Giglio v. United States, 405 U.S. 150 (1972), Mr. Lizarraga-Lopez requests all statements and/or promises, 16 express or implied, made to any witness, in exchange for their testimony in this case, and all other 17 information which could be used for impeachment.

18        21. Agreements Between the Government and Witnesses. Mr. Lizarraga-Lopez requests 19 discovery regarding any express or implicit promise, understanding, offer of immunity, of past, present, or 20 future compensation, or any other kind of agreement, promise, or understanding, including any implicit
21 understanding relating to criminal or civil income tax, forfeiture or fine liability, between any prospective
22 Government witness and the Government (federal, state and/or local). This request also includes any 23 discussion with a potential witness about or advice concerning any contemplated prosecution, or any 24 possible plea bargain, even if no bargain was made, or the advice not followed, and specifically includes any 25 discussion with a potential witness regarding that witness’ immigration status and/or any affect that the 26 witness’ statements or lack thereof might have on that status, including the granting or revoking of such 27 immigration status or any other immigration status, including but not limited to citizenship, nationality, a
28 green card, border crossing card, parole letter, or permission to remain in the United States.

22. Informants and Cooperating Witnesses. Mr. Lizarraga-Lopez requests disclosure of the names and addresses of all informants or cooperating witnesses used or to be used in this case, and in particular, disclosure of any informant who was a percipient witness in this case or otherwise participated in the crime charged against Mr. Lizarraga-Lopez. The Government must disclose the informant's identity and location, as well as the existence of any other percipient witness unknown or unknowable to the defense. Roviaro v. United States, 353 U.S. 53, 61-62 (1957). The Government must disclose any information derived from informants which exculpates or tends to exculpate Mr. Lizarraga-Lopez. Brady v. Maryland, 373 U.S. 83 (1963)

23. Bias by Informants or Cooperating Witnesses. Mr. Lizarraga-Lopez requests disclosure of any information indicating bias on the part of any informant or cooperating witness. Giglio v. United States, 405 U.S. 150 (1972). Such information includes, but is not limited to, any inducements, favors, payments or threats that were made to the witness in order to secure cooperation with the authorities.

24. Scientific and Other Information. Mr. Lizarraga-Lopez requests the results of any scientific or other tests or examinations conducted by any Government agency or their subcontractors in connection with this case. See Rule 16(a)(1)(D).

25. Residual Request. Mr. Lizarraga-Lopez intends by this discovery motion to invoke his rights to discovery to the fullest extent possible under the Federal Rules of Criminal Procedure and the Constitution and laws of the United States. Mr. Lizarraga-Lopez requests that the Government provide him and his attorney with the above requested material sufficiently in advance of trial to avoid unnecessary delay prior to cross-examination.

III.

THE COURT MUST SUPPRESS ANY STATEMENTS BY MR. LIZARRAGA-LOPEZ

A. The Court Must Suppress Mr. Lizarraga-Lopez's Alleged Pre-Miranda Field Statements Because They Were Elicited as the Result of Custodial Interrogation.

The material produced thus far by the government indicates that Agent Kaiser first confronted and interrogated Mr. Lizarraga-Lopez, regarding his immigration status, shortly after 4:15 am in an isolated area north of the International Border. This entire interrogation proceeded any form of administration of Miranda

1 rights by the agents by approximately five hours.

2 “The ruling in Miranda prohibits ‘custodial interrogation’ unless the government first gives warnings
3 to the [subject of the interrogation].” United States v. Gonzalez-Sandoval, 894 F.2d 1043, 1046 (9th Cir.
4 1990). Custodial interrogation occurs when under the totality of the circumstances the questions asked by 5 the police are reasonably likely to elicit an incriminating response from the subject. Id. Although questions
6 that include routine biographical information usually do not trigger the safeguard of Miranda v. Arizona, 7 “[t]hat exception is inapplicable . . . where the elicitation of information regarding immigration status is 8 reasonably likely to inculcate the [subject].” Id.

9 In United States v. Kim, 292 F.3d 971, 973 (9th Cir. 2002),<sup>2</sup> the Ninth Circuit noted that the 10 following factors are to be considered in deciding whether or not a police-dominated atmosphere exists:
11 “(1) the language used to summon the individual; (2) the extent to which the defendant is confronted with 12 evidence of guilt; (3) the physical surroundings of the interrogation; (4) the duration of the detention; and 13 (5) the degree of pressure applied to detain the individual.” Id. (citations omitted); see also United States v.
14 Estrada-Lucas, 651 F.2d 1261, 1265 (9th Cir. 1980) (in context of custody at the border “[t]he factors to be
15 weighed are the language used to summon him, the physical surroundings of the interrogation, the extent
16 to which he is confronted with evidence of his guilt, and the pressure exerted to detain him.”). The Ninth 17 Circuit also recognizes that “question[s] implying that [the agent] suspected [the defendant] of criminal 18 activity” can give rise to a reasonable belief that one is not free to ignore the questions and leave. United 19 States v. Chavez-Valenzuela, 268 F.3d 719, 725 (9th Cir. 2001).<sup>3</sup>

20 It is not necessary that an individual be physically restrained in any fashion. In Beraun-Panez, the 21 Ninth Circuit found that an individual questioned out in an open field, who was neither held nor handcuffed
22 nor told that he was under arrest, was nonetheless in custody for Miranda purposes. Beraun-Panez held that 23

24
25 <sup>2</sup> In Kim, the Ninth Circuit found that a Korean woman who went to her own store, voluntarily,
26 because an officer’s visit prompted her to do so was in custody even though she was in familiar surroundings
27 because the police “temporarily took over complete control of Kim’s store creating a ‘police-dominated 28 atmosphere.” 292 F.3d at 977. This combined with difficulty with English and isolation from family supported the finding that Kim did not willingly agree to submit to an encounter with the police. Id.

<sup>3</sup> Chavez-Valenzuela involved a roadside stop of a motorist on a public street, out in the open.

1 “[a]lthough not physically bound, Beraun-Panez was subjected to psychological restraints just as binding.”
2 812 F.2d at 580.<sup>4</sup>

3 Here, the criteria for a police-dominated atmosphere as articulated in Kim are clearly met. Regarding 4 the language used by Agent Kaiser to summon Mr. Lizarraga-Lopez, while the report does not state the exact
5 words used in identifying himself as a border patrol agent and to get Mr. Lizarraga-Lopez into custody,
6 whatever words used clearly indicated to Mr. Lizarraga-Lopez that Agent Kaiser was a law enforcement
7 officer and that Mr. Lizarraga-Lopez was in custody. The facts that Agent Kaiser was in uniform carrying 8 his gun, and in an isolated area with no means to escape substantiate this factor. Additionally, Agent Kaiser
9 confronted a pedestrian Mr. Lizarraga-Lopez while in an isolated area, enhancing any belief that 10 Mr. Lizarraga-Lopez would be unable to leave. Finally, Agent Kaiser was not acting alone when he 11 confronted Mr. Lizarraga-Lopez as he also had Agent Wenzel with him.

12 Concerning the extent to which Mr. Lizarraga-Lopez was confronted with guilt, he was apprehended 13 in an isolated area and immediately interrogated about his immigration status. The physical surrounding of 14 the interrogation was clearly a remote area as evidenced by the report’s description the isolated location of 15 “The 90’s.” The report is devoid of any landmarks such as homes or businesses. It is, however, unclear how 16 long the detention took place or the amount of pressure applied to Mr. Lizarraga-Lopez since Agent Kaiser’s
17 report does not address how long the interrogation and detention took and only uses boiler-plate language
18 to describe Mr. Lizarraga-Lopez’s responses. Further, the defendant in Kim was isolated from family, a fact 19 that the Court gave great weight to. Kim, 292 F.3d at 977. Here, Mr. Lizarraga-Lopez was in a rural area, 20 as in Beraun-Panez, with an armed border patrol agent in a government vehicle, while he was on foot.. Thus,
21 the statements must be suppressed.

22 Not only did the questioning here occur in a “police-dominated atmosphere” where Mr. Lizarraga-
23 Lopez was isolated, the agent’s questioning bore on Mr. Lizarraga-Lopez’s alienage, which is an element 24 of the charged offense, 8 U.S.C. § 1326. See United States v. Meza-Soria, 935 F.2d 166, 171 (9th Cir.
25 1991). This question in such a setting carried with it implicit suspicion of criminal activity. A person, such 26 as Mr. Lizarraga-Lopez, subjected to such questioning in such a situation obviously does not reasonably feel

27
28 <sup>4</sup> The police confronted Beraun-Panez with his alienage, accused him of lying and kept him separated from his co-worker in a remote rural area. Beraun-Panez, 812 F.2d at 580.

1 free to leave, and thus is subject to custodial interrogation. See Chavez-Valenzuela, 268 F.3d 719, 725 (9th
2 Cir. 2001).

3 In the context of an encounter between border patrol and an individual near the international border,
4 any questioning regarding an individual's alienage falls under the rubric of custodial interrogation.
5 Furthermore, because of the close relationship between civil and criminal immigration investigations,
6 "[c]ivil as well as criminal interrogation of in-custody defendants by INS [agents] should generally be 7 accompanied by the Miranda warnings." United States v. Mata-Abundiz, 717 F.2d 1277, 1279 (9th Cir.
8 1983).

9 In United States v. Gonzalez-Sandoval, 894 F.2d at 1043 (9th Cir. 1990), the defendant appeared at 10 a local police station to provide his state parole officer with a urine sample. Id. at 1046. A second parole 11 officer accused Mr. Gonzalez-Sandoval of being a deported alien and called the Border Patrol. Id. The 12 Border Patrol came to the station, and without warning him pursuant to Miranda, asked Mr. Gonzalez-
13 Sandoval where he was born and whether he possessed documents to verify the legality of his presence in 14 the United States. Id. The Border Patrol agents then took Mr. Gonzalez-Sandoval to the Calexico Border
15 Patrol Station. Failing to administer the Miranda warnings a second time, the agents questioned 16 Mr. Gonzalez-Sandoval about any alias he possessed. Id. The agents ran an INS record check against 17 Mr. Gonzalez-Sandoval's name and alias, and found Mr. Gonzalez-Sandoval's prior immigration record.
18 Id. The Ninth Circuit found that the district court erred in failing to suppress the unwarned, prompted 19 statements by Mr. Gonzalez-Sandoval about his name and alias. Id. at 1047.

20 In United States v. Mata-Abundiz, an INS agent visited the defendant in a state jail to obtain 21 biographical information to determine the defendant's citizenship status. 717 F.2d at 1278. The agent knew 22 about the state charges against Mr. Mata-Abundiz, and did not warn him pursuant to Miranda prior to 23 obtaining the biographical data. Id. Afterwards, the agent made further inquiries at his office and within 24 three hours returned to the jail to charge Mr. Mata-Abundiz with a federal immigration offense. Id. Despite 25 the fact that the agent characterized his interrogation as pursuant to a civil investigation, the court held that 26 the agent should have warned Mr. Mata-Abundiz as required by Miranda because the agent knew his 27 interrogation could lead to federal charges against the defendant. Id. at 1278-1279.

Here, it is obvious that the information the agent elicited from Mr. Lizarraga-Lopez, during the interrogation, regarding his citizenship, application for permission to enter, and use of a document was “reasonably likely to inculcate” him. The questions served no purpose other than inculcation. They are in fact two of the four elements that the government must prove to obtain a conviction for a violation of 8 U.S.C. § 1326. Moreover, it is undisputed that Mr. Lizarraga-Lopez was not read his Miranda rights at that point, nor advised that his answers to the agent’s questions could result in federal charges against him. Therefore, statements must be suppressed.

B. Mr. Lizarraga-Lopez Requests a Hearing Pursuant to 18 U.S.C. § 3501 Concerning The Admissibility Of Any Statements That The Government Intends to Use Against Him at Trial.

This Court should conduct an evidentiary hearing to determine whether any statements made by Mr. Lizarraga-Lopez’s should be admitted into evidence. Under 18 U.S.C. § 3501(a), this Court is required to determine, outside the presence of the jury, whether any statements made by Mr. Lizarraga-Lopez were voluntarily made. In addition, § 3501(b) requires this Court to consider various enumerated factors, including whether Mr. Lizarraga-Lopez understood the nature of the charges against him and whether he understood his rights.

Moreover, section 3501(a) requires this Court to make a factual determination. Where a factual determination is required, courts are obligated to make factual findings by Fed. R. Crim. P. 12. See United States v. Prieto-Villa, 910 F.2d 601, 606-10 (9th Cir. 1990). Because ““suppression hearings are often as important as the trial itself,”” Id. at 610 (quoting Waller v. Georgia, 467 U.S. 39, 46 (1984)), these findings should be supported by evidence, not merely an unsubstantiated recitation of purported evidence in a prosecutor’s responsive pleadings.

IV.

MOTION FOR LEAVE TO FILE ADDITIONAL MOTIONS

Defense counsel has incomplete discovery at this time, and contemplates further motions once discovery is received and reviewed with Mr. Lizarraga-Lopez. Therefore, counsel requests leave to file additional motions once discovery is completed.
